Service schedule: Member will serve a minimum of 1,715 hours over a 44 week term, averaging 41 hours per week with 80 hours of “Time Not Scheduled to Serve” to be used as sick, vacation, or other personal leave.

Position Summary:

First Peoples Buffalo Jump State Park is a 2,100 acre site which contains the largest buffalo jump in North America. It is a vitally important cultural, prehistoric site that was used during the “Dog Days” of several Plains and Plateau tribes. A modern visitor center contains exhibits that tell the story of how tribes conducted a buffalo jump hunt and processed the animals after they were stampeded off the cliff. There are 3.5 miles interpretive trail tells additional history as visitors are hiking through the area. Park staff also accommodate school groups from all over Montana and neighboring states as the site is a favorite field trip destination. Visitors from all 50 states and numerous foreign countries also come to the site to learn about the tribal culture. Another component of park operations is a satellite site, Tower Rock State Park. The natural feature of the landmark was prominently noted in an 1805 journal entry of Captain Meriwether Lewis, co-leader of the Corps of Discovery.

An AmeriCorps member will help enhance the incredible cultural and natural resources of the park. The member will improve educational and interpretive programs given daily at the park by developing and leading interpretive hikes for the public and school groups that visit the site. Outreach programs will target and encourage school groups and organizations to use the park, especially those that assist at-risk populations. The member will increase volunteer capacity by hosting an open house for potential and new volunteers. To improve park land the member will facilitate the cleanup of park grounds, assist in the development of a new trail loop, implement noxious weed control measures, etc.
